WEBINAR SERIES

WITH MARYSEL POSTLEWAITE

Conflict Resolution: Tools for Life

Strengthen relationships in building trust and enhance communication skills. Expand bias awareness, link neuroscience to positive responses, and boost conflict resolution skills.

Have you ever been in a situation where you wished you had handled it differently? Learn to improve and walk away having been your best self. Implementing successful tools for conflict resolution will be useful for your lifetime.

In three sequential sessions, via Zoom conferencing, participants will learn, practice, and reinforce skills to nurture more compassionate relationships. These tools are applicable for the young and old. What you take away are strategies for yourself and those in your communities. Each session will conclude with an opportunity to pose questions and exchange reflections on specific situations.

Maryse L Postlewaite has traveled internationally to share her skills from her experiences with mentoring, leading workshops, and teaching.

Maryse will help you and your group transform your relationships.

Maryse has been a Montessori educator since 1979 when she trained in Bergamo, Italy with many years in the elementary classroom. In the early 1980's, Maryse trained with Children's Creative Response to Conflict (CCRC). Many additional trainings include Positive Discipline, KidPower, Mindfulness, NVC, and Cultivating Authentic Communication.

Through the years, she implemented many strategies in her own classes. She has led workshops in both public and private school settings. She has been a presenter at numerous national conferences, highlighting classroom management, team building, and conflict resolution tools. In her spare time, Maryse builds cairns and gardens.
